AMONG THE MISSING

BRITISH WAR OFFICE CAN FIND
NO TRACE OF LIEUT. J. F.
HORNSEY

Mrs. John F. Hornsey, of Lomita avenue, has just had word from the British war office that her husband, a Lieutenant in the Royal Army Medical Corps, who was reported "missing" last March, is now reported killed. It is her understanding that the war office has no proof of his death and friends have written her not to lose courage, as it has been the policy of the Germans to keep any physicians who chanced to be among the prisoners back of the lines taking care of the German wounded without listing them, and that may have been Lieutenant Hornsey's experience. Mrs. Hornsey has two little sons and plans to return to her friends in England next spring if the war ends. She has exhibited the most wonderful courage and poise under conditions which would have dethroned the reason of some women.

She has four brothers in service, two of whom are in the British navy. One went through all the battles in the North Sea. His ship was sunk, but his life was saved. Another who was in the hospital service returning the wounded to the colonies, was submarine three times, but miraculously escaped unharmed. One brother is in Palestine and has sent her flowers from the Holy Sepulchre, while the fourth is in the submarine wireless service on a land station which has been repeatedly bombarded.

GILBERT A. COWAN VISITS OLD FRIENDS

Sergeant Gilbert A. Cowan, on detached service in Washington, D. C., with a staff corps, was a visitor in Polo the first of the week. Sergeant Cowan is the son of A. T. Cowan, formerly publisher of the Tri-County Press. He is on ten days' sick leave from the Capital City, after spending sixteen days in the Walter Reed General Hospital with an attack of influenza.

It is his intention to visit Milledgeville, Chadwick and Sterling during the week, where he will renew childhood acquaintances. The Sergeant declared that his one big purpose in returning to Polo was to see if the Depot Park looked as large as it did when as a boy he lugged a five-gallon can of gasoline through the park to the Cowan home on the east side.

After an interim of eight years, Sergeant Cowan was particularly impressed with the many modern improvements in his former home city. He declared Polo compared favorably with many of the new western cities.

Sergeant Cowan's home is in California, where his father publishes the Glendale Evening News, daily, and the Glendale Sentinel-Progress, weekly. Sergeant Cowan was employed on the staff of the Bakersfield, Cal., daily, when he enlisted about one year ago.—Tri-County Press, Polo, III.

FERRISS-WILSON WEDDING

An event which will claim the interest of their many friends, as well as be a surprise to them, is the marriage of Willie Louise Ferriss and Harry Woodrow Wilson, which took place Saturday afternoon, November 9th at 5 o'clock.

The wedding, necessarily, because of the "flu" embargo, was very simple. The ceremony was performed at the home of Rev. W. E. Edmonds, 421 Cedar street, Glendale.

The bride and groom were attended by Miss Ruth Lorena Wilson, sister of the groom, and Harry Percy Coker, Jr.

After the solemnization, the bridal party repaired to the Victor Hugo, where Mr. Coker was host at an elegantly arranged wedding supper.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Wilson are among the most popular of the younger set and have a large circle of friends to whom they are now at home, at 208 S. Louise street, Glendale, as Mr. Wilson, who is serving the government in connection with the Santa Fe, could not take any time from Uncle Sam's business for a honeymoon at present.

DEATH OF HAROLD KURTZ

Mrs. Florence R. Kurtz, 1401 Melrose, was deeply bereaved Sunday morning at 10:30, when her oldest child and only remaining son, Harold R. Kurtz, passed away after an illness of less than two days of influenza. Harold was born June 13, 1915, so was 13 years 4 months and 27 days old. He was an industrious lad and was employed carrying a Times route up to Friday morning. On Friday he became ill of influenza and a weak heart made resistance to the disease impossible.

The sympathy of the entire community goes out to Mrs. Kurtz, who has been bereft of four children in the past three years.

Private funeral services will be held Tuesday at the Pulliam Undertaking Parlors. Interment will be in Forest Lawn cemetery.

Go to 136 N. Brand, Harry! Today is the last day to get on the Honor Roll.

PEACE THOUGHTS

CITIZENS AGREE THAT PEACE SHOULD NOT LESSEN THE WAR WORK CAMPAIGN

In Glendale hearts today reigns a deep, sober joy which had its birth when the bells and whistles announced the signing of the armistice at 1 o'clock this morning. With the joy has come, however, an equally deep sense of responsibility and of the great work ahead of this nation, a realization that now is no time to relax the efforts for the comfort and well-being of our soldiers over there, or for the lessening of our support of the agencies that make for morality and order. This has been especially apparent in connection with the war work campaign now in progress concerning which many prominent citizens emphatically expressed convictions that it should be pushed with more enthusiasm than ever.

Ed. M. Lee, of the First National Bank of Glendale, said: "There will be even greater need now that peace has been declared for the work which the Y. M. C. A. and other agencies are doing over there. There will be a reaction from the strain of war, and the moral hazards will be greater. We must not let go now."

Stephen Packer said: "I have a son over there. I do not want the influence of these agencies removed from him and his comrades now. You know how I feel."

M. P. Harrison, of the First National Bank of Glendale, said: "I think this campaign should be carried right on because our boys need these comforts and this moral support even more than before war ceased, for they will have more leisure. It should be carried on until the boys come home, and the period of reconstruction may keep them there for two or three years."

C. D. Lusby, of the Glendale Savings Bank, said: "The reconstruction work to my mind is going to be as great or greater than the work our boys have been doing, so far as humanity is concerned, and the moral uplift will be needed the more. The task is equivalent to the rebuilding of Europe, and we must see that the morale of our army is kept up."

George P. Paine: "Now is the time our boys most need assistance and we cannot have any laying down. We must be unanimous in support of all the institutions indorsed by our government and the morale of our army must be kept up. Our boys are going to need moral support more than ever before, and the good citizen will not fail to come through on this drive."

LETTER FROM BELLE MATTLEY

Miss Bess Field of Kenwood street, has received a long letter from Miss Belle K. Mattley who taught last year in Glendale High. She is now in Walla Walla, Wash., where she teaches sewing in the High School and has general supervision of sewing classes in the grammar schools. Walla Walla is a beautiful town, one of the oldest on the coast with a population of 23,000. In the beginning it was a trading post and its Indian name means "Many Waters." The many small streams which rise in the hills surrounding the town probably suggested the name. She seems to be very pleasantly situated and with her roommate, who is a teacher of biology with a master's degree from Cornell, shares a suite of rooms in a large old mansion filled with treasures of mahogany, Turkish rugs, old silver, etc., inherited from wealthy grandmothers and great grandmothers. The prosperity of the people has impressed her greatly. She writes it is nothing for a rancher to walk into a bank and ask it take care of a $75,000 check which he has just received for products of his ranch and which he does not know what to do with.

The streets, she says are lined with lovely old trees which meet in an arch above them. The country round about she finds very beautiful and describes a long walk with her room mate into green hills which rise 4,000 feet above the town, with wheat crops on their slopes to the very top, and refers again to the flowing streams and the trees. Her boarding place appears to be a very cosmopolitan one which is patronized not only by school teachers but by professional men, bankers, lawyers, doctors and two lieutenants in the S. A. T. C. also a young woman about to go to France for service in a Red Cross canteen, who, by the way is a Californian from San Diego.

CARE OF AUTOMOBILE TIRES

Having made a careful study of this subject from a "Service Station" standpoint, during the two years The Monarch Company has been in business, the following notes may prove beneficial to tire users:

In the first place, it should be understood that the points brought out can only properly apply to first class, high grade tires, as cheap "unknowns" are liable to do almost anything but wear well, no matter what care is given them.

A common mistake, and a sad one, is putting an old tube in a new tire. Many a splendid tire is practically ruined within the first day or two on account of running low or flat from a defective tube. Buying a new tube with the tire would have been much cheaper. The proper and constant inflation of tires is of the greatest importance. More tires are blown up by under inflation than by over inflation. The continuous flexing of the side walls of a tire running "soft" must cause them to break down and separate. Fully inflated tires may make a machine run a trifle harder, but at the same time it will save gasoline. If you don't believe this, try rolling a rim with tire deflated along the pavement and see how hard it goes. Then inflate it and note the difference. In this connection it may not be amiss to say a little more about air. "Free air" signs are numerous enough, so there is little excuse for insufficient air in tires. There is one source of trouble and inconvenience, however, that is too often overlooked. It is the air gauge. Every car owner should have his own. This is the only way to avoid dangerous variation in pressure. The gauge borrowed at the filling station is very liable, through constant use, to become decidedly erratic and harm may come from using it. Better have your own.

Car owners often complain bitterly when a front tire wears out much sooner than anticipated and the tire generally gets the blame, quite unjustly. It is invariably caused by the wheels being out of alignment. Any good garage man can put them in shape in a few minutes. Customers will sometimes refuse to believe that disalignment is the reason for a tire wearing off so fast. They will, as a rule, point to the opposite tire which may be a much older one and much less worn, but the fact is, strange as it may seem, that no matter which way the wheels are "out," only one tire wears abnormally, should the wheels be "towing in," which is most common, the right tire will be the one to wear, and vice-versa. This never fails.

Disadjustment of brakes and unwise hasty starting and stopping, are the causes of rear tires wearing unequally and in spots. A dollar spent for break adjustment will save several dollars in tires, besides making the car much safer to ride in. Tires are often needlessly ruined when slightly cut through or badly punctured. When this occurs it is the general practice to put in a "shoe." This is the correct thing to do as an emergency measure, but if the tire is allowed to go this way for any length of time, it is quite likely to cause it to rot where the shoe is and what at first would have required a very simple repair, may now require a full section or may be even beyond repair. It is the same old story of "a stitch in time."

The next and last point to be brought out is what to do with the worn tire and when. As to what to do, there is some divergence of opinion. The logical desire would be to have replaced, as nearly as possible, the worn off tread. So many difficulties are encountered in this apparently simple proposition that not a few drivers have given up the idea of getting satisfactory retreading done, and prefer to wear their tires out. Others, however, are more successful and become staunch friends of the retreaded tire. They have learned that there is as much difference in retreading tires as in cooking a meal. Both can be unsatisfactory from very much the same reasons.

The car owner who wishes to get satisfactory work must be willing to pay a fair price and must go to a place where the right kind of work can be and is done, where high grade material is used, where the most modern appliances are installed and where the work is skillfully executed.

As to when a tire should be retreaded rests somewhat upon that particular tire, but as a rule it is wisest to have the work done as soon as the rubber first wears through. The possible few days more of wear between this and the time the real fabric of the tire is reached will scarcely compensate for the damage which may be caused to the hard carcass of the tire unprotected by the rubber cushion of the tread.

Many tires have to be thrown away that could have been easily repaired a few days before. The proper care of tires greatly reduces one of the chief expenses consequent to the owning and running of an automobile.

H. M. BUTTS.

utes ago that we need it now more than ever. The boys are going to need clean, healthy recreation and environment."

Dan Keity: "I believe the work should go on just the same, with no letting up on the part of citizens in its support until it is all over, and that may take several years."

Ezra Parker: "You can't make my declaration too strong for the necessity of keeping up this war drive campaign. We should give more than ever and give again and again, and give thankfully."

Frank Kuntzner: "If a man had just succeeded in putting out great fire in his place of business it wouldn't mean that he could sit down and quit business. It would mean he must get up and work harder than ever. Neither can we quit. We need these war work agencies more than ever and should support them more gladly than ever before."

Clyde Bott: "This war work is just as important now as it has ever been and the boys are likely to have more chance to profit by it."

Dr. C. Stuart Steelman: "They will need amusement and supervision of the right sort more than ever before."

Dr. R. V. Hogue: "When I was awakened in the night and knew the great news that had come to America I realized straightway that there would be greater need than ever for those moral agencies which have sustained our armies up to this time and that now that peace has been declared there must be no let up."

Mrs. H. E. Bartlett: "We know from the publicity which has come to our Red Cross, that it will be perhaps fifteen months before our boys come home, and this work must go on just the same. We must not let up at all."

Miss Ida Waite: "Of course, we must go right on and push the campaign to the limit. The fact that peace has been declared in no way lessens the need, because those boys over there must be taken care of."

James Shultz: "There can be no slackening in this work. A revolution is on in Germany; the Russian problem is facing the Allies, and there is starvation in all those countries which is going to call for reconstruction work which will detain our armies abroad. It is absolutely important that Glendale should do her share in this drive."

Mrs. Charles Toll: "I think that while we are extremely jubilant over the news, history shows that an army must be maintained for a year at least after peace is declared. The army will not be disbanded and the need for comfort and cheer for the boys will be greater than ever, because they will not have the stimulus of the impending battle. It has been found that an army in times of peace is much more likely to deteriorate than an army in time of war, hence we must all come to the support of the boys and do for them now in the spirit of happiness that actuates the nation."

V. M. Hollister: "This is something that must be carried on until the boys come back. We cannot abandon them now."

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Armstrong and daughter, Mrs. Lester Black, and Mrs. John Cook of Alhambra, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. D. Shattuck, of 114 W. Broadway.

There will be no meeting of Chapter L. P. E. O., until after the influenza ban is lifted. Members may go to Red Cross headquarters and get work to take home with them, as workers are very much needed.

Dr. E. F. Archer of Banning, who has been seriously ill with the influenza, but who had been improving, was reported this morning to be not quite so well.

Mrs. E. S. McKee and family of Colorado boulevard, Mrs. C. Clainin of 404 W. Colorado street, Mrs. G. W. McKee and Mrs. J. C. Plannette motored to Hermosa Beach Saturday night to spend the week-end.

Capt. Harry V. Brown, who for a time was very busy looking after "flu" cases, has now been given command of Field Hospital Company 321, 96th Division, 321st Sanitary Train, Spartansburg, Camp Wadsworth, South Carolina.

A. H. Trueblood, proprietor of the shoe repair shop on Broadway, who lives 119 Cerritos avenue, was ill of influenza last week, so was his assistant, Mr. Herman, and the shop had to be closed for a few days. Mr. Trueblood is all right now, and Mr. Herman is convalescent.

A party of Glendale young people left early Saturday afternoon by auto for Oakwood in the Arroyo Seco, where they planned to camp for the week-end. They were chaperoned by Mrs. E. A. Svenson and the group included, Gladys Allewalt, Frances Porter, Mildren Svenson, Olive Svenson, Paul McCowan, Allen Mackenzie and Owen Dair.

Letters from Sergeant E. D. Mosher, who has been in the Officers' Training Camp at Camp Taylor, Kentucky, for the past month, say that the weather is very very cold there. He says he has failed to find any of the blue grass that he has heard so much about. All together, he likes Southern California the best yet.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Weaver of Kenwood street, have letters informing them that Mrs. A. L. Weaver is confined to her bed with the "flu" at their new home in Berkeley. She has been sick for four or five days and has quite a high fever but is not considered to be seriously ill. Mr. Weaver has had to quit work with the Hercules Powder Company to take care of her.

Glendale is celebrating peace with a beautiful new flag flying from its municipal flagpole. It was purchased from money which citizens have been dropping into the bowl placed in Roberts & Echols drug store for the purpose. When it was counted, a surplus of nearly six dollars was discovered which had been turned over to the Red Cross to be used for a new Red Cross emblem for the city's pole. The stars and stripes are beautifully fresh and they never looked so good to our people as they do today.

DEATH OF MRS. COWELL

Mrs. Emily Cowell passed from this life at her home on Kenwood street Saturday morning, November 9, at the age of 81 years. Mrs. Cowell had been feeble for the past year and had been cared for by her daughter, Mrs. H. W. Timothy, who came from her home at Choteau, Mont., for that purpose.

Mrs. Cowell was born in the state of Michigan. Before coming to California seven years ago she spent a year with her daughter in Montana. She came to Glendale six years ago, and made many friends here. Besides her daughter, she is survived by three sons, A. J. and C. A. Cowell of Choteau, Mont., and M. R. Cowell of Prince Albert, Canada.

Funeral services will be in charge of the Jewel City Undertaking Co., but final arrangements will not be completed until the sons are heard from.

A UNITED CAMPAIGN

A sermon by Rev. C. A. Cole, of the Christian Church.

Besides having a part in the bearing of the burden of suffering entailed upon those in active service for our country, by making our contribution to the United War Work Campaign, there is a great factor in the Drive which began today which should bring us great joy. Our President suggested it when, in urging the united campaign, he says, "if these seven societies will unite their forthcoming appeals for funds, in order that the spirit of the country in this matter may be expressed without distinction of race or religious opinion in support of what is really a common service, the best results will be secured."

The world looks today with disgust and pain upon a divided House of God. Every grain of common sense men have, the great needs of the time, the prayer of Christ himself,—all cry out against division and lack of cooperation in the Church of Christ. If these agencies can unite in a War Campaign for the needs of the boys at war, why cannot they and other agencies, religious agencies, unite in other campaigns, against sin and graft and division in the household of Faith?

Jesus gives vigorous indictment of the church and His time when he says, "Woe unto you, for ye to the mint and anise and cummin, and have left undone the weightier matters of the law, justice, and mercy, and faith." He accuses them of straining at a gnat and swallowing a camel. Long before the modern crusade against germs, the Scribes and Pharisees were accustomed to strain wine through linen or gauze, lest they should unaware drink some little insect that would render them ceremonially unclean. Yet these same men were not at all adverse to dishonesty and avarice. The tendency to excess in trifles is nowhere seen at such disadvantage as in the conduct of religion. Divisions have occurred in Christendom over the most trivial causes. The manner of wearing the beard, of dressing the hair, of fastening wearing apparel, with other apparently trivial reasons, have divided the church into competitive camps and rival communions.

How little is the difference between many religious bodies! How unchristian to remain apart! The bringing of the world to Christ awaits the unity of His church. The great world war has made us see the value of a united effort, and the smallness of some of our contentions over method and practice and non-essentials. The ample Christ challenges our standards as he did the Scribes and Pharisees of His day. He observes the smallness of our spiritual concepts, the littleness of our creedal systems, the meagreness of our ministries, the misplaced emphasis of our teaching. And He calls us to a larger view of God and man. Our deep-rooted prejudices give Him pain. Our provincial views disappoint Him. Our supreme selfishness pierces His great heart like a sword. The very greatness of His presence, the vastness of His spirit, the boundlessness of His love, rebuke us. Surveying Him in all His loveliness, the tyranny of the trivial becomes insufferable; and unto Christ we cry:

On my heart your mighty charm renew;

Still, still let me as I gaze upon You, Feed my soul becoming vast, like You.

The Eastern Star card party and dance planned for November 16 will not be held on that date, but has been postponed indefinitely. Watch the Glendale Evening News for date.

A PRIVILEGE AND DUTY

It is much to be regretted that the Intermediate P. T. A. has been unable to meet this year. We trust we may meet in December, and that all mothers will come out with new enthusiasm and pep, after the long rest.

Our junior Red Cross chairman, Mrs. W. W. Worley, has not been idle in the interval and has completed 12 dresses and 18 petticoats. Will the mothers who are willing to make one or more petticoat during the coming two weeks, phone Mrs. Worley, 1572 R, and she will deliver the materials all cut and ready for making. Though the war has ceased, there are many thousands of children in Belgium and France dependent on the efforts of the women of this country to supply them with clothing. To do this is a privilege as well as a duty.

MRS. BLAKE FRANKLIN, President, Intermediate P. T. A.

Close Harmony Under Fire

THE men had finished supper, and sat around in listless groups. Even when a shell went zooming overhead they showed no interest. They were fed up on this war.

A little gray car chugged up the hill to their camp. Two war work men stepped out, carrying between them a curious long box.

"What you got there?" asked the doughboys.

"An organ."

"Well, can you beat that!"

"We've come to give you a little entertainment," said one man. "All right?"

"You bet it's all right," answered a young officer. "This gang hasn't seen a soul from the outside world for weeks. Go as far as you like!"

And they did.

They sang the new songs, just over from Broadway. In a minute the whole camp was singing them. Then they sang the verse of a good old close-harmony melody, and the crowd roared the chorus.

"But haven't you men got anybody who can sing?" asked one of the entertainers. The response was immediate and overwhelming.

"Sure we have! Oh, you Shorty! Come on, Happy! Give 'em that 'Perfect Day,' Bill!"

And then things really started.

"Would you know it's the same gang?" asked the American officers.

For two hours it lasted, and then the visitors packed up their organ.

"Come again soon and send more of your men," said the officer. "We can't get too much of it!"

"So long!" yelled the men. "Good luck! Come again!"

Wherever there are American soldiers overseas, these organizations are carrying entertainment to them. Movies, concerts, lectures, local talent, even full-fledged comedies with a truck for the stage, from the simplest sing-songs in the woods to the most elaborate program in city theatres, everywhere free entertainment is provided to meet conditions.

Why you should give twice as much as you ever gave before!

The need is for a sum 70% greater than any gift ever asked for since the world began. The Government has fixed this sum at $170,500,000.

By giving to these seven organizations all at once, the cost and effort of six additional campaigns is saved.

Unless Americans do give twice as much as ever before, our soldiers and sailors may not enjoy during 1919 their:

3600 Recreation Buildings	2500 Libraries supplying 5,000,000 books
1000 Miles of Movie Film	85 Hostess Houses
100 Leading Stage Stars	15,000 Big-brother "secretaries"
2000 Athletic Directors	Millions of dollars of home comforts

When you give double, you make sure that every fighter has the cheer and comforts of these seven organizations every step of the way from home to the front and back again. You provide him with a church, a theatre, a cheerful home, a store, a school, a club and an athletic field—and a knowledge that the folks back home are with him, heart and soul!

You have loaned your money to supply their physical needs.

Now give to maintain the Morale that is winning the war!
